O'DONNELL'S CASE.

On Thursday last, the United States Secretary of State telegraphed Minister Lowell, that the House of Representatives requested the intervention of the President to procure a delay of execution, so that it might be ascertained whether O'Donnell was an American citizen, and whether there had been an error in his trial. The Secretary also instructed Minister Lowell that in his view, the citizenship of O'Donnell might be considered established. The Minister was instructed to ask of Her Majesty's Government, a careful revision of the proceeding, and a delay of execution till such revision should be made. All this was communicated to Lord Granville, who replied on Saturday, that due revision had been made—O'Donnell's counsel being present—and that, upon full examination, Her Majesty's Government found no grounds for interfering with either sentence or execution.

O'Donnell was hanged to-day. What answer would our Government have given the Minister of a nation claiming Guiteau or any other murderer or assassin convicted in this country and sentenced for his crime—if he suggested defects in our proceedings and claimed a stay of execution? The question of citizenship really had nothing to do in the premises; and, in fine, one nation has no right to interfere in the internal policy of another, and few would attempt it but our own. How much an approaching election may have quickened the sympathy of Congressmen for O'Donnell is a question that suggests its own answer.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Congressman Casey Young of Tennessee offered a resolution for the appointment of a new committee on land grants, to which shall be referred all bills, resolutions, etc., in relation to grants of public lands to corporations. At present three committees contend for the privilege of reporting on such matters, viz: Judiciary, Pacific Railroads and Public Lands, and it is said nothing has been done by any of them. Young says the questions involved are too important to be longer deferred, and that the creation of a special committee is, in his judgment, the only way to bring them before the House for consideration.

The Enterprise is quite facetious over the Washington length of an opinion of the Supreme Court. We are not prepared to take issue with our neighbor on the question, but suggest that the time consumed in reading the opinions of the Court is but a moment to the cycles that roll away before decisions are given in cases appealed. Time was made for slaves. Courts have no idea of time, or we respectfully add, eternity.

The Reno Democrat thinks there is an aching void in the Bourbon breast which it can fill. It is the property of Robert Glenn, who is a printer of experience and a Democrat by birth. It is not natural for us to wish it well, but it has as much right here as we have. It is a fair field and a free fight, and let the best paper win.

The Postmaster-General has issued an order directing all postmasters to exchange two-cent stamps and stamps of other denominations for three and six-cent stamps, envelopes, etc.

Dudley C Haskell, member of Congress from Iowa, died this morning.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

O'Donnell's Death.

LONDON, December 17.

O'Donnell was notified at 7:30 to make ready. He was perfectly resigned, and expressed great sorrow for the outburst of temper in the dock at the conclusion of his trial. He said he had felt the greatest animosity for the witnesses who appeared against him, but that had now disappeared. O'Donnell walked with great firmness and without assistance of the wardens, who stood closely around. He was calm and self-possessed. While standing on the drop he looked around unconcernedly. Binns performed the remainder of his duty quickly. He attended a drop of eight feet. The rope was placed exactly as Marwood used to place it. Binns pulled the lever of the trap precisely as the neighboring church clocks were striking 8. The crowds in from Newgate increased rapidly, and shortly before 8 o'clock numbered 20,000 persons. The streets were closely packed, but the throng observed a quiet and orderly demeanor. The Irish element was not conspicuous. As the moment for execution approached, the crowd swayed up against prison wall and road-way, which was before kept clear, and it was blocked. The police, however, moved rapidly through the multitude, and easily cleared the way. When the black flag was hoisted which announced the tragedy at an end, there was no demonstration, although suppressed excitement marked many faces. O'Donnell's brother remained to the last, bitterly weeping in the centre of a sympathizing group. The clouds began to break as the hour of 8 approached, and when the black flag was run up, it was distinctly displayed against the rising sun. The people immediately dispersed.

O'Donnell's brother occupied a doorway opposite the prison in view of the flagstaff upon which his eyes were riveted. He was an object of the deepest interest. The crowd pressed so closely upon him the police had to interfere for his protection. When the black flag was hoisted, he removed his hat and remained some minutes apparently praying, his fingers working painfully. He stood upon the spot sometime after the execution. To people lingering around he said in a hoarse voice: "My poor brother, he has died as bravely as a man ever died." This was received with cries of "yes." He then departed and the crowd disappeared.

O'Donnell retired at an early hour last evening. This morning he rose promptly to eat a good breakfast shortly after 5 o'clock. At 6 o'clock Fleming arrived. He received the prisoner's last communication and administered the holy sacrament. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the prisoner was removed from his cell to a large room of the prison.

In the large room were stationed Binns, the hangman, the sheriff and under sheriffs, the governor of the jail, Rev. Mr. Daffell, prison chaplain, and a Newgate surgeon. The process of pinning the prisoner's limbs was quickly performed by Binns. O'Donnell kept a resolute silence and showing the greatest firmness, occasionally smiling in a half abstracted manner. This work done, the procession moved to the court-yard where was the scaffold. O'Donnell declined any assistance in ascending the scaffold. Father Fleming, by his side, repeated the service of the church for the dying and held a crucifix before O'Donnell's gaze. The prisoner took his place on the drop under the rope, the slack of which was held over his head by a piece of thread. Binns appeared very calm and quickly fixed the noose around O'Donnell's neck, carefully placing the knot under his left ear. He at once stepped back and pulled the fatal lever, when O'Donnell fell eight feet. The rope hardly quivered. According to the surgeon, death was instantaneous, there being scarcely any muscular movement of the hanging form. As the black flag ran up those within the prison could hear a murmur from the multitude outside. The body hung an hour, when it was cut down and removed for proper legal inquest.

After Death.

LONDON, December 17.

The usual inquest upon the body of O'Donnell showed that the face bore a calm expression. The rope made a deep indentation in the neck. Binns, the hangman, was good humoredly mobbed by the crowd on leaving Newgate prison.

More News.

DUBLIN, December 17.

Peter Wade has been sentenced to be hung the 16th of January, for the murder of Patrick Quinn on October last. The prisoner is stated to belong to a secret society whose orders he obeyed in committing the murder.

Earl Spencer has finally refused to reprimand Johnson Pool who murdered Kenney and Pool will be executed Tuesday.

The Glasgow dynamiters have been taken to Edinburgh under a strong guard.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

A Mexican Bank Robber.

DENVER, December 17.

At Durango, early this morning, several burglars, headed by a negro named Big Ike, picked the lock to the Bank of Durango, and the negro entered the building while the others remained outside. Three citizens who were watching the bank, having been notified of the intended robbery, started to capture the negro, passing through a side room. The negro drew a revolver and killed Hunt, a furniture dealer and son of ex-Governor Hunt. The robbers all made their escape, though shot at several times. The town is wild with excitement, and citizens ready to shoot down any of the robbers should they be found.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, December 17.

The House adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Haskell. The Senate appointed Senators Plumb, Cockhill and Dawes as a committee to attend the obsequies of the deceased. The Republican Senators held a caucus this morning, which decided not to proceed to the election of a President pro tem. until after the holiday recess. The precarious condition of Senator Anthony's health made it advisable not to make the contemplated change just before a long recess. Democratic Senators caucus this afternoon.

The Boom Breaking.

PITTSBURG, December 17.

The workmen in the Thompson Steel Company, having accepted a reduction of 13 per cent. in wages in preference to remaining idle until trade improves, the mills are running as usual to-day, and steady employment is promised 3,000 men through the season. To steel men, this reduction means a reduction in all steel rail mills in the country.

Brotherly Attention.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., December 17.

Walter Bratt and his brother-in-law, Dayton Clark, drove to this city, and became very much intoxicated. On returning to their farm, Bratt threw his wife violently upon the bed and began to pull out her hair in bunches. Clark remonstrated, for which his life was threatened, whereupon he drew his pistol and killed Bratt.

A Heavy Loss.

CANDELARIA, December 17.

A fire which broke out Saturday night destroyed sixteen buildings. Nearly the whole south side of Main street is in ruins, except the Emerald County Bank, which is fire-proof. The losses foot up near $100,000. Insurance, $30,000. R. K. Gamble & Co. and B. G. Smith are the heaviest losers. Scarcity of water caused the fire to spread. The disaster following the closing down of the Northern Belle mine, cast a gloom over the town.

A Boy Killed.

AUSTIN, Nev., December 17.

Thomas Roberts, aged 10 years, yesterday picked a giant powder cap with a pin, and it exploded, blowing his left hand to pieces and inflicting terrible wounds on his body. The hand was amputated twice and the shock was too great. He died this morning at 5 o'clock.

Knew Her Own Business.

LONDON, December 17.

Victor Hugo wrote Queen Victoria asking her to pardon O'Donnell. Hugo in the letter says: The Queen of England has shown more than once her greatness of heart, and the Queen will grant O'Donnell his life and accept the unanimous thanks of the whole civilized world.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

It is said that O'Donnell claimed himself an invincible, just before his hanging.

The first cargo of American wheat ever imported into Austria, arrived yesterday by steamer from Hamburg to Laube in Bohemia.

Marquis Tseng has been instructed by the Chinese Government to initiate a treaty with European powers, and appeal for their assistance.

D. M. and E. G. Halbert, a Birmingham, N. Y., dry goods firm, have assigned with liabilities of nearly $400,000; assets probably $100,000.

In the billiard contest at Lyons, Garnier scored 600, Daley 653. Daley made one run of 309. In two nights, Garnier scored 1,200, and Daley 1,150.

The Mayor of Rome states that the purpose of the visit made by the Crown Prince of Germany is to strengthen the bonds between Italy and Germany.

It is officially announced that Henry Villard has resigned the Presidency of the Oregon Transcontinental and of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company.

Moran Looking Around.

Surveyor Keddy, of Quincy, has, for several weeks past, been engaged in running lines from Onieda across the summit to Beckwith and down the Feather river. The Leader says: The object is, probably, for the purpose of making an estimate of the amount of money it would require to extend the road into a country which would afford sufficient traffic to make it a paying institution. The parties in the East who hold the big judgement against the road under which it is to be sold on Jan. 14th, evidently want to know how much it will cost them before they can realize something on the investment, before they finally bid it in. The valley people need not expect to see it in our midst, however, for two years yet, as after the sale of the road it is not likely that they will begin work on it until the time of redemption of it has expired.

Ladies Love to Read It.

NEW YORK—Mr. Frank Tousey, publisher of the Arm Chair, the great family story and sketch paper, which is sold by every newsdealer in America, says: "It affords me pleasure to recommend St. Jacobs Oil as a reliable cure for pain; we have many reports of its good effects."

Baker Pasha's departure for Suakin has been delayed on account of financial difficulties.

The Mansfield mills, Mass., have given notice that wages will be reduced about 10 per cent January 1st.

The hanging of O'Donnell was a surprise to his compatriots in New York who, somehow, thought England would listen to a voice from the United States, and commute the sentence.

Wall pockets at Nasby's Bazaar. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1 and 2-14, 19, 38, 45, 46.

Quiet, civility, best lunch and liquor are what you find with Geo. Becker. Patrons are always satisfied and always come again.

Nasby has a better supply than ever before, and says that customers were never more numerous. He thinks you will do well to examine his stock.

Washoe county will astonish the world shortly. Diamonds till you can't rest, and of the first water, too. The recent discoveries will soon be made public.

The year 1893 is becoming cadaverous, knock-kneed and bald-headed, and will soon step down and out, to give way to its vigorous successor, 1894.

The ladies of Reno and vicinity never had such a grand opportunity to secure a tasty, stylish and reasonable hat as is now being offered at Jamison & Co.'s.

Al. White succeeds in making every corner comfortable at the Palace. Rooms and bar cannot be over praised; and he who is not pleased there, will be pleased nowhere.

Pollard's meat market is a place not to be excelled for the purchase of anything in the flesh line that housekeepers may want. He prides himself on selling at the lowest possible rates.

In cold weather one needs good boots or shoes. Tom Barnett has everything of that sort that you need, from the heaviest rubber boots to the lightest slippers. His prices will please you.

The White House is a credit to Reno. Its fair prices, abundant and durable articles of wearing apparel, and the civility of Abraham Bros. in showing them, make it a model house for customers.

Standing in need of groceries, for anything else that a No. 1 establishment should have, you will do best by calling on Lindley & Co., who will furnish what you want and satisfy you in prices and quality.

Long established, reliable and not gaseous, is the motto of Levy Bros. They think they have succeeded in their efforts to supply the wants of the season, and the ladies are of the same opinion, as their place is always full.

Brookins wants your custom, and will sell at rates that will surprise by their cheapness. He has laid in a very extensive assortment of everything in the way of notions and holiday articles, which he will sell at bottom rates.

He who wants eyeglasses needs a practical optician. It is sufficient to say that Goegeel is both an expert jeweler and a skilled optician. This is said without prejudice to his holiday jewelry and other things, which you should call to see.

Myers says he will not be undersold nor outdone in quality of goods by any druggist on the coast, and offers everything that an apothecary should keep, to say nothing of special articles for the Christmas season at the very lowest prices.

Chielovich & Co. at the Wine House will wait on you day and night with the best that the best distilleries or vineyards of the United States, France, Germany or Italy afford. If you need a refreshing glass, there is no better place to get it.

J. J. Becker has kept saloon in Reno so long that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. He has every kind of drink, and a lunch that surpasses the highest expectation. He furnishes every kind of beer, and all that he offers is good of his kind.

Everett has so large a stock of groceries, sold at satisfactory prices, that one can hardly particularize. He also has green corn, so fresh and luscious, that the consumer will think it just plucked. All his articles are good, and he sells them at lowest market rates.

WASHOE GEOLOGY.

Scientific Study of the Comstock Lode.

The report of the geological survey of Washoe has been published and is quite interesting. The economical importance of the Comstock lode appears from the fact that in the twenty-one years ending June 30, 1890, a little over $306,000,000 worth of bullion has been extracted from it. Of this about $132,000,000 worth was gold. The mines are the deepest in America, reaching a distance of over 3,000 feet from the surface, and they contain about 185 miles of galleries.

The greater part of the hanging wall of the lode is diabase; the "black dike" is also a variety of diabase, and the supposed trachyte of the district is a hornblende-andesite. The so-called porphyry of Washoe comprises a number of Tertiary and pre-Tertiary rocks, reduced to a nearly uniform appearance by decomposition. The erroneous determination of these altered rocks is an independent species arose mainly from a confusion between green and fibrous hornblende and chlorite.

A DISCUSSION OF FAULTING Leads to an explanation of the similarity of the shape of the west wall of the lode and the form of the adjoining face of the Virginia range.

The ravines of the latter are a direct result of faulting, and are only slightly modified by erosion. A cross-section of the country on the Suro Tunnel line shows that the surface forms a logarithmic curve in accordance with the theory, which is further supported by experiments. The sheeted structure of the country seems to be referable to faulting and not to eruptive bedding. The theory leads to rules applicable in prospecting disturbed but not greatly eroded districts. The details of the topography of grassy hills are chiefly due to landslides, which come under the law of faults in a modified form, and the characteristic curves of smooth hillslopes are logarithmic.

THE ORDER OF SUCCESSION

Of rocks in the Washoe District is: Granite, metamorphics, granular diorite, porphyritic diorite, metamorphic diorite, quartz-porphry, earlier diabase, later diabase, earlier hornblende-andesite, augite-andesite, later hornblende-andesite, and basalt. Hornblende-andesite thus followed as well as preceded augite-andesite. Chemical evidence shows that the pyrite of the region is the result of the action of soluble sulphides on the ferro-magnesian silicates of the rocks. Chlorite is held to be a product of the decomposition of hornblende, augite, or mica. Epidote forms at the expense of chlorite under certain conditions, but never from feldspar. There is extremely little kaolinization at Washoe, the feldspars having yielded to another kind of decomposition. The diabase of the hanging wall when fresh was argilliferous and auriferous, and the precious metals of the lode are traced to this rock with much probability, the lateral-secretion theory being thus affirmed. It is further supported by the dependence of the other ore bodies of the district on the character of the enclosing rock. The hypothesis that the

Is due to the kaolinization of feldspar is not confirmed either by theory or experiment. On the other hand, there is much geological evidence pointing to a deep-seated source of heat, probably of volcanic origin. This conclusion is confirmed by extensive temperature observations, from which it appears that from the surface downwards the increase of heat is uniform, about 1° F. for every 33 feet, while in a horizontal direction the heat decreases in a geometrical ratio to the distance from the lode. All the important and profitable ore bodies of the Comstock, it appears, have occurred at or near the west face of the earlier diabase; and is near that surface, and there only, that exploration is at all likely to be successful. The mode of occurrence of bonanzas is considered, and hopeful prognostications are made for at least two portions of the lode; but a series of bonanzas nearly on the same level, such as were found on the east vein near the surface, is not likely to recur. Electrical surveys were made both on the Comstock and at Eureka. At Virginia only negative results were obtained. At Eureka a distinct though small difference of potential occurs near ore bodies, and with sufficiently delicate apparatus the method might there be used for prospecting. It is believed that sulphuretted ores would have given results of a more convenient magnitude than the carbonate ores of Eureka.

Changed Hands. D. M. Gloster writes as follows under date of the 13th: I have just bought of Preston W. Hayes of Eagleville, 500 acres of patent land, 60 miles, 100 mares and a thoroughbred jack, also all of his horses, cattle and his brand, with the right to use it forever. I branded 60 mules yesterday. Branding mules is tougher work than preaching political economy or discussing the reduction of freights and fares.

From the North. Ed Haley arrived yesterday from Susanville with an 8-horse team heavily laden. He passed bands of sheep, cattle, and hogs on the way hither for shipment.

NORTHERN NEWS.

A Woman's Sorrow—Goose Lake Women Over-Share's Head.

Weather Notes. NEW PINE CREEK, Or., Dec. 17.

M. Gazette.—This is a slow country and we have not had a good year. One man sowed 50 acres of grain and harvested eight. There is a small steamer in Goose Lake, navigated by Captain Little, but it is lying at anchor on account of ice. It is 60 feet long and was built for a tug. Mrs. Thomas Vernon, who lives near Lakeview, tried to commit suicide last week. She sent two of her children to a neighbor's and put her baby in its cradle. She then tried to shoot herself with a pistol, but couldn't make it work. She then took a knife and sawed at her throat until she cut a small artery and then fainted. When found she was in an almost dying condition from loss of blood. The pool covered the floor and ran into the next room. Dr. Cober of Fort Blauwell is attending her and she is doing well. No reason is known for the rash act.

A human skull was found last week at Willow Ranch, Goose Lake valley. A dog was noticed gnawing it and on examination it was found to be the upper part of a human head. A hole was through each side from a gun shot. It was announced to be the missing head of Shaw who was found beheaded at Madeline Plains a few weeks ago. Parties are trying to trace it up. There has been no snow to speak of in Goose Lake valley. The weather remains clear with cold nights. This a great benefit to the large amount of stock that is ranging on the adjoining hills, and the sheep men are in their glory.

Hunting Murderers.

L. J. Flint came in from the north Saturday. He says the Madeline Plains country is excited over the Shaw murder again. E. V. Spencer of Susanville thinks he has found the guilty, and subscriptions are being raised to prosecute the case. On Saturday J. G. Cooper was arrested and brought to the Susanville jail by Deputy Sheriff Dean of Modoc county. He is the only one of the parties suspected and Mr. Spencer says people will be astonished when the others are arrested. It is now almost certain that the head found in Goose Lake valley, 50 miles from the scene of the murder, was that of Shaw. A detective has been at work on the case and he has developed evidence against other parties who will be arrested in a few days.

A Flour Famine.

Owing to the failure of the wheat crop in Goose Lake valley and eastern Oregon, Surprise valley was called upon to supply those sections with grain. In consequence Surprise valley is short, and the people will be obliged to come to Reno for flour to carry them through the winter. Grain of all kinds is very high in that section. The mills in that valley have been obliged to close down owing to the scarcity of grain.

Narrow Escape.

Last Wednesday, as James H. Kinkead, Superintendent of the J. & K. mine, was coming up the shaft on a ladder, he was hit on the head by a falling rock weighing 12 or 15 pounds. It cut an ugly gash in his scalp, over two inches long. He was 30 feet from the bottom of the shaft when he heard it coming and braced himself so that he managed to maintain his hold. His escape from death was miraculous.

Pyramid.

James H. Kinkead came in from Pyramid-to-day. He reports everything running well at the mine. Everything is in readiness to commence stoping ore on their level. The ore house is finished, and the mine improving daily.

PIUTE MURDER.

The Medicine Man Assassinated at Buffalo Meadows.

Plute tradition says it has been the custom among that noble band of native Americans, from time immemorial to despatch the big medicine man after three of his patients have turned up their toes to the sage-brush consecutively. That ancient custom is still adhered to. The last unfortunate pill mixer was dispatched to the Plute heaven last Wednesday at Buffalo Meadows.

The white residents of that beef-producing section say that the doctor lost his third patient (a son of Captain Dick) about two weeks ago. A council was held among the members of the tribe living in that vicinity and the necessary proof taken, when it was decided that Dr. Ma-sho-g should suffer death, and his ponies—two in number—be shot. During the night of December 12th the executioners appeared at the doctor's wigwam and put four or five bullets into his body. The whites living near heard the shots and the screams and yells. The next morning the Indians reported that the doctor had first killed his horses and then suicided by eating wild parsnip. His remains were covered with rocks and left as a feast for the hungry coyotes. After the death of Dick's boy, the doctor left the tribe, and remained away until he was assassinated. The Indians claim that he was insane.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifling with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.
"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the only remedy necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me."
HORACE FAIRBROTHER,
Rockingham, N. H., July 16, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.
"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup. It seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and he took it, which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight it cured him. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
Mrs. EMMA GEDNEY,
150 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effective remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL."
Byhalia, Miss., April 6, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

Contains 1180 Pages and 470 Illustrations. It has received the unqualified approval of the press of the country as a general educational work of exceptional merit. There is no book like it in the market today, and therefore has no competitors for public favor. It is without doubt, the most thoroughly satisfactory book for agents and customers that has been issued for years. The requisites for a good agent are ability to read, honesty, common sense and energy. Highest rates of commission and exclusive territory; circulars and terms on application.

COAST ITEMS.

Salt Lake is full of burglars. Orange talks of a Presbyterian college. Stockton is forming a cremation society.

Hay sells for $18 a ton at Los Angeles. Santa Ana claims a 34 pound sweet potato.

Dixon shows a preference for one-story brick houses. The ostriches at Anaheim will be plucked in a few weeks.

The postmaster at Tucson, A. T., has absconded to Mexico. Moses Andrews, a banker of Auburn died Sunday from apoplexy.

The Mormons are seeking subscriptions to thwart the Gentiles. Solomon Torres and Manuel Soto are charged at Salinas with the murder of a Chinaman.

Gray hairs often cause annoyance, which Parker's Hair Balsam prevents by restoring the youthful color. dec 7

Frank Wilson, a contractor at Los Angeles has been arrested for defrauding his workmen.

The Southern Pacific has suspended two conductors for giving a free ride to an ex-conductor.

At Nevada City Ed Trailek was arrested on Thursday on a charge of outrage on a 12-year-old girl.

Mothers should know it. Fretful babies cannot help disturbing everybody, and mothers should know how soothing Parker's Ginger Tonic is. It stops teething pains, makes them healthy, relieves their own anxiety and is safe to use. Journal. dec 7

Perry Jacobus is in the "tank" at San Francisco, in default of $100,000 bail. His indebtedness to the company is $48,911.

John Thomas perpetrated a brutal crime on a little boy at Wadsworth on the 13th. He was arrested, identified and threats of lynching are rife.

Don't condemn a good thing because you have been deceived by worthless novelties. Parker's Ginger Tonic has cured many in this section from nervous disorders, and we recommend it heartily to such sufferers. News. dec 7

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars in California is in a snarl over the management of their paper, the Beacon. Some of the lodges tried to "fire" their editor, Capt. Wood, but he would not go, and they have brought suit to oust him. Many lodges protest against the effort.

Startling Weakness. General and Nervous Debility, Impaired Memory, Lack of Self-confidence, Premature Loss of Manly Vigor and Powers, are common results of excessive indulgence or youthful indiscretions and pernicious solitary practices. Victims whose manhood has thus been wrecked by self-abuse should address, with three letter stamps, for large illustrated treatise giving means of perfect cure, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
